Cooper Fulleon will take away historic WEEE when we have been contracted to replace it on a like for like basis, providing the historic WEEE is of equivalent type and same function as the new equipment. Whenever possible, to minimize cost and environmental impact, we would prefer to collect the WEEE at the time of delivery of the replacement product. When this is not possible, historic WEEE is to be returned to us within 28 days following delivery of the replacement equipment.

Any requirements which differ from the above will require alternative commercial arrangement.

7) Treatment

8) Information to Recyclers

As required by the WEEE Directive, Cooper Fulleon Ltd will provide reuse and treatment information for each type of new EEE put on the market within one year after the equipment is put on the market. Cooper Fulleon Ltd will make required information available to reuse centres by the date specified in member state legislation, typically within one year after the new products have been put on the market or sold after 13th August 2005.
